VANCOUVERCENTER OPENS NEW MODEL UNITS IN PARKVIEW CONDOMINIUM PROJECT

VANCOUVER, Wash.— The Parkview at Vancouvercenter's announced the hot-selling condominium project has opened new model units due to increased demand.

The two model units have moved from the first floor up to the sixth floor. One model is an upgraded unit that features: stainless steel appliances, carpet upgrades, new wood base trim and hardwood flooring in kitchen and entry area.

Parkview is a project in the heart of Vancouver. Unit plans vary from studios to spacious two bedrooms and are prices begin at $118,900. Parkview offers views of the Cascade Mountains and the Columbia River, and is across the street from Esther Short Park.

"We are excited to open the new model home units at Parkview." Said Nawzad Othman owner's representative for the project and he added, "Sales have been outstanding and they are an excellent price point for buyers."

Parkview is part of the vibrant "Vancouvercenter" project, an exciting two-square-block development residential units and Class A office and retail space. The development offers secure underground parking, on-site fitness facilities, a community room and high-speed Internet capabilities. The Parkview condo buyers also receive property tax abatement until 2013.

Vancouvercenter is within walking distance to nature trails along the Columbia River, Esther Short Park, shopping, restaurants, banks, a movie theater and the Vancouver Farmer's Market. Part of the fast growing Northwest, Vancouver is just two hours from the Cascade Mountains, 90 minutes from the Pacific Ocean, 15 minutes from downtown Portland, and 15 minutes from the Portland airport.
